DESCRIPTION Please describe the practice you have developed.
Once a month, we organize an agroecological cineforum. We screen documentaries in the community centre, generating reflexión and debate about agroecological culture.
AIMS AND OUTCOMES Which are the main purposes tackled in a community garden with this tool? Which concrete results have been observed at short and long term?
Our main aim is to bring together people in a community space for reflexion about agricultura. Through the use of audiovisual, we have managed to get together, to dialogue and to learn together. Cineforum is a very good practice for dialogue and learning process within a group. There is interest, and each documentary brings some knowledge to the attending people.
WHAT MAKES IT A GOOD PRACTICE OR TOOL? Identify which elements make this action a good practice, for ex. Innovation, coherence, link with other projects or people, favours social mixing, simplify work, earn time or money, etc.
It is a good practice because it is open for all kinds of public, it is free and it is educational. Moreover, it is innovative to connect the group of gardeners with the Cineforum; it is an ideal complement.
STEP BY STEP Please, describe how to put in practice, guiding with clear instruction and materials needed someone that would like to experiment your tool in a local community garden around Europe
The choice of the documentaries is essential. They must be of good quality. There should be a project, some ideals, some concept. It should be aesthetic. We also try as much as possible to bring someone to present the documentary (the director or someone from the production team. It is a direct way to have some reflexion about the documentary.

COMPETENCES Which are the previous knowledge and skills required to put in practice this tool?
We can count on the support of experts who give us some advice and some ideas for documentary that we can show. We also receive the support of the community center. It requires good organization skills to be able to offer good programmes.
EVALUATION How do you normally evaluate the outcomes of this tool?
The result is very positive. It permits to establish relations between the audience. We can experiments different ways to approach a single issue, always on a dialogue basis. We bring up issues such as production types, ways of consumption, organic agriculture, local agriculture, etc. We bet on ecology, solidarity and community feeling within the inhabitants of Guinardó neighborhood.
