DESCRIPTION Please describe the practice you have developed.
The practice that I am currently documenting is the construction of a bread oven in the community Garden Huerto del Xino in the Ravel neighborhood. This project involves volunteers from the neighborhood who have come together to help Renan to construct a wood oven to be able to bake bread for common meals and gatherings. I am documenting the construction process by video and will edit the process and put the process online so that other interested parties can copy and recreate the construction process in other gardens.
AIMS AND OUTCOMES Which are the main purposes tackled in a community garden with this tool? Which concrete results have been observed at short and long term?
In the short term this project has allowed people of different ages and generations to come together in the construction of a structure that aims at benefitting all participants and visitors of this community garden. The aim of the oven is to provide homemade bread for gatherings or other occasions in which this community space is being used by its occupants.
WHAT MAKES IT A GOOD PRACTICE OR TOOL? Identify which elements make this action a good practice, for ex. Innovation, coherence, link with other projects or people, favours social mixing, simplify work, earn time or money, etc.
This project allows people of different ages and backgrounds to work together and to learn from each other. By documenting the construction process we hope to allow for other gardens to copy this example and to be able to pass on the common knowledge and experience our garden has had with the construction of this oven.
